RE. The Market Monitoring Unit [MMU] Investigation Process Manual

Dear Kenny,

Tynagh Energy Limited (Tynagh) welcomes the opportunity to provide its feedback on the proposed Market Monitoring Unit (MMU) Investigation Process Manual that is outlined within the consultation paper SEM-13-047.

I refer you to Tynagh's response to the original consultation on the Investigation Process Manual, dated 25/02/2011. Amongst Tynagh's concerns highlighted in the first response was the notable absence of investigation timelines, a point that remains unaddressed in the Further Consultation paper and which Tynagh now wish to reiterate.

The Investigation Process Manual should include realistic timelines for the conclusion of inquiries/investigations by the MMU. Without clear deadlines, a participant could become subject to one or several 'open ended' inquiries/investigations. The participant subject to a MMU investigation should at all times be able to ascertain if the investigation is ongoing or concluded.

Notwithstanding our concerns, Tynagh is supportive of the proposals outlined in SEM-13-047. In our opinion a transparent process for MMU investigations, both formal & informal, is indeed required.

Please don't hesitate to contact me should you wish to discuss any aspects of this response, or the original response.

Yours sincerely,
